JONATHAN KARCHMER

Associate Director, Forensics

Jonathan is an Associate Director of Forensics at iDS and is responsible for the oversight of operational efficiency and project delivery within Forensics – focusing on research, development, and automation of analysis tasks. He has been managing projects since 2000, including computer forensic examinations, data breaches and network incidents, ESI collection, processing, and hosting, as well as document review and production.

Jonathan has advised counsel in engagements regarding intellectual property and trade secret theft, contractual disputes, electronic document production, FTC second requests, due diligence investigations, embezzlement, harassment, illegal surveillance, network attack/incident handling, and network security auditing. He has also offered sworn testimony in state and federal courts.

SELECT CONSULTING EXPERIENCE

- Examined computers for evidence of trade secret theft following employee exit from the company. Recovered deleted email messages and information regarding transfer of proprietary data to a competitor. Analysis identified deliberate spoliation attempts were made by the defendants, including data wiping as well as attempted date/time manipulation on laptop computer. Findings led to a temporary restraining order against the competitor.
- Assisted overseas financial institution in collection, production, filtering, and searching of 12 terabytes of data in response to discovery request. Oversaw processing and culling to further reduce the data set to less than 4 gigabytes of data for legal review.
- Investigated illegal computer surveillance and wiretap within corporate offices. Analysis uncovered a covert surveillance program had been installed on select employee computers. Reports generated by the surveillance programs were recovered, and the investigative efforts discovered attempts to destroy evidence and communications between the conspiring parties. Results and a final report were supplied to the Attorney General's office for prosecution.
