Mark is a Relativity Certified Administrator with a sharp technical edge in data hosting, review, and production.

At iDS, he's the go-to for every step of the eDiscovery journey—steering projects from start to finish. He keeps the gears running smoothly, handling collections, overseeing data processing, managing Relativity workspaces, and ensuring productions stay on track.

Before diving into eDiscovery, Mark spent seven years in finance. Born in Washington, DC, and raised in Maryland, he's a first-generation American with Portuguese roots. When he's not managing cases, Mark's at home with his wife—who also works in the field—or reflecting on his past life as a local DC DJ.
